ABOUT US

Incorporated amid corona crisis 2020, we are a team of young & energetic individuals who dream to fight global climatic changes by adapting to Renewable power sources to cater the ever hungry and demanding world to become self-sustained and yet contribute to the future & nature.

Urgent actions will make the consequences of global warming manageable, what is at stake is the half of ecosystem, wildlife, and importantly the world we leave for our children.

With current technology we cannot reach sun, but sun-light definitely can approach earth with an 8 minutes of travel in the form of a photon. Sun can be a game changer by providing life energy and bring sustainability, each leaf of a tree is an energy synthesizer hence is self-sustaining without any external search for food & energy, similarly each building should become self-sustained power house by harness the power of sun.

India has a unique confluence., we are a place with lot of sunshine, we are Tech savy community, we have high electricity cost, highly populated with higher demand of electricity.
